

WOMEN IN INTERNATIONAL LAW: CHARTING THE PATH

Wednesday, September 11 | 6:30–7:30PM | Reception 7:30–8:30PM

In-person: New York City Bar Association, 42 W 44 St

Nyaradzayi Gumbonzvanda
UN Assistant Secretary-
General, UN Women Deputy
Executive Director

Dorothy Patton
Attorney-Adviser,
U.S. Mission to the United Nations

Oona Hathaway
Professor International Law,
Yale Law School

Natalie Reid
Partner,
Debevoise & Plimpton LLP

Serena Lee
CEO, International Institute for Conflict Prevention & Resolution

As international law faces unprecedented challenges, now more than ever seems an opportune moment to discuss how women can drive positive and meaningful change. Join us for an engaging conversation featuring accomplished women who have excelled in various areas of international law. The speakers will share their personal journeys, discuss their unique challenges and aspirations, and explore strategies for enhancing women's impact in the field.

Opening Remarks: Muhammad U. Faridi, President, New York City Bar Association

Speakers:

Nyaradzayi Gumbonzvanda, UN Assistant Secretary-General, UN Women Deputy Executive Director

Dorothy Patton, Attorney-Adviser, U.S. Mission to the United Nations

Oona Hathaway, Professor of International Law, Yale Law School

Natalie Reid, Debevoise & Plimpton LLP

Serena Lee, CEO, International Institute for Conflict Prevention & Resolution

Closing Remarks: Beatrice Maille, Legal Adviser, Canada's Mission to the United Nations

Moderators:

Victoria Pochtár, International Lawyer, Chair of the International Law Committee, NYCBA

Farah El Barnachawy, PhD candidate in Public International Law, Panthéon-Sorbonne, Paris

To register click here

Debevoise
& Plimpton

