

The Health Policy Project invites you to join us for:

Financing

FINANCING HEALTH IN THE POST-2015 ERA: FILLING GAPS FOR SUSTAINED IMPACT

Monday, July 13

1:15 p.m.–2:45 p.m.

Jupiter International Hotel, Tito Street, Addis Ababa, Ethiopia

Lunch will be provided.

PRESENTERS:

Welcome and Introductions: Aron Betru, Chief Executive Officer, Financing for Development Corp (F4D)

Keynote Remarks and Panelist: (Invited) Honorable Christian Paradis, Minister of International Development, Government of Canada

Presenter and Panelist: Suneeta Sharma, Director, Health Policy Project

PANEL DISCUSSION:

Honorable Juliana Lunguzi, Chair of Health Committee Parliament, Malawi

Lillian Kidane, Director, Healthymagination Africa, GE Africa

David Lyamuya, Project Manager, White Ribbon Alliance for Safe Motherhood in Tanzania

MODERATOR: Aron Betru

DESCRIPTION:

As international donor funding for HIV and other health programs begins to plateau and resources are focused on the most urgent needs, countries must identify sustainable alternative (non-donor) resources to support health systems. The panel discussion will focus on the role that donors, host governments, CSOs, and the private sector are playing to generate policy actions for sustainable health financing.

Specific examples will be given from the

- Global level—The Canadian Governments' leadership in global maternal health and nutrition
- Private sector—Alternative financing mechanisms to support short-term financing for health commodities, strategic costing, and policy support
- National legislative level—The movement by Members of Parliament to increase family planning resources in Malawi
- NGO level—Accountability, transparency, and advocacy with the White Ribbon Alliance for Safe Motherhood in Tanzania

Participants will be invited to engage in the conversation through sharing their experiences and discussing the future of sustainable health financing.

This event was organized with support from the International Planned Parenthood Federation, Futures Group, and the White Ribbon Alliance.

Please RSVP to Carol Miller at cmiller@futuresgroup.com