

You Are Invited:

Science, Technology and Innovation in a Post-2015 World

Wednesday, July 15th, 2015

3:30p.m. – 5:00p.m.

Radisson Sholla 2

The development landscape is changing. If we are to meet the ambitious post-2015 Development Agenda we need to think about new ways of achieving development outcomes. Join us for a panel discussion on how science, technology and innovation (STI) can provide unparalleled opportunities to deliver social impact and economic returns, while engaging a wider array of actors in the development process than ever before. We will explore what national governments, private industry, civil society, and donors can do to catalyze STI for inclusive development.

Opening Remarks:

Ambassador Alfonso Lehnhardt, USAID Administrator

Panel Speakers:

Torbjörn Pettersson, Assistant Director General, Sida

Ewen McDonald, Deputy Secretary, DFAT

Mamadou Biteye, Managing Director for Africa, The Rockefeller Foundation

Peter Singer, Chief Executive Officer, Grand Challenges Canada

Ann Mei Chang, Executive Director, U.S. Global Development Lab, USAID

Moderator: Michael Anderson, CEO, Children's Investment Fund Foundation (CIFF)

***No ticket is required to attend this event, but participants must be accredited for the conference by the UN.***

Australian Government
Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade

