BPW International is presenting a workshop that builds on the highly successful launch of the BPW International Equal Pay Day awareness campaign.

To attend please register by email with "EPD Workshop" in the subject line to: presidents.office@bpw-international.org

Belinda Pyke, Director for Equality between Men/Women, European Commission, joins our panel of prominent speakers building on key themes from last year.

BPW International works to raise the status of women through Affiliates in over 90 countries and encourages women to become well informed and active at local, national and international levels so that we can achieve equal pay, equal representation, equal rights and equal opportunities for women everywhere.
