

HOUSE OF VIOLENCE

Ending the cycle of domestic violence against women and girls

Often, women and girls are most in danger where they should be the safest: inside their homes and with their families.

Domestic violence is a global phenomenon. How can we end it? Which preventive measures are the most effective?

March 4th, 2013 from 6:30 – 8PM

CORE: club 66
66 East 55th Street
(btwn Park and Madison Ave.)
www.thecoreclub.com

Norway and Half the Sky Movement invite you to a panel discussion on effective prevention methods and a conversation on the next steps in the movement to end domestic violence.

RSVP to: Carina.Alm@mfa.no

By February 28th

Please join us for cocktails and conversation in the library after the event.

The panel:

H.E. Ms. Inga Marte Thorkildsen
Norway's Minister of Gender Equality

Mr. Ted Bunch
Co-Founder
A Call to Men

Ms. Jackie Payne
Director
Move to End Violence

Ms. Archana Pyati
Deputy Director, Immigration Intervention Project
Sanctuary for Families

Ms. Audrey Moore (TBC)
Chief of the Domestic Violence Unit and Special Victims Bureau, New York
County's District Attorney's Office

Moderated by renowned journalist and documentarian
Ms. Perri Peltz